Welcome to this charming red five-bedroom, 2.5-bath home at 19 N. Packard St. in Hammonton. As you approach, the covered front porch invites you to relax and sip your morning coffee.

Step inside, and you're welcomed by a bright, sunlit living room. This space flows into another cozy living area, offering flexibility for gatherings with family and friends.

Moving toward the kitchen, you'll find a spacious layout with a large island that offers storage underneath, making meal prep and organization a breeze. The island extends into a convenient seating area, and from here, a sliding glass door leads you outside.

For more formal gatherings, head to the generous dining room. Rustic wood beams adorn the ceiling, adding warmth and character, while built-in cabinetry, reminiscent of a hutch, provides elegant storage for your fine china or decorative pieces. The combination of glass and wood brings both functionality and style to the space.

A combined mudroom and laundry area, complete with its own bathroom, keeps everything tidy and conveniently located for everyday use.

The main house also includes three comfortable bedrooms, each offering plenty of space and natural light.

The in-law suite provides a fantastic addition to this property. Here, you'll find a family room that flows into a well-equipped kitchen. A large island with seating for four makes this space both practical and inviting.

The suite also features two additional bedrooms, a full bathroom, and a large
